

509BC

The great Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus on the southern summit of highest of 7 hills
in Rome was dedicated in 509BC

It was destroyed 3 times
by Fire. last rebuilt by Domitian

CAMPUS MARTIUS

(Field of Mars). At Rome. It was used during the Republic as a military and athletic exercise ground. Public meetings and the Constitutional assemblies were held there.

Later it became crowded with public buildings and private residences.

5090C

After the fall of Rome's Etruscan
monarchy, competing clerics & salt-pans
and commercial markets soon led to serious friction, exacerbated by Veii's establishment of an outpost, FIDENAE on the left bank of the Tiber near the outskirts of Rome itself.

509 BC
c 500 BC

2 masters were appointed
by the Consuls until 447 BC
Only 2 quaestors were appointed.

Had some judicial
duties

509 BC

Roman Republic founded (traditional)

509 BC

Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus,
was finished.

Situated against the side of the south summit of the Capitoline Hill. It was dedicated to Jupiter, Optimus
Maximus, Juno, and Minerva.

The Temple was supposed to stand on sacred ground, and because of its position could be approached from one side only.

It was destroyed by fire in 83 BC
and was rebuilt by Lucius Cornelius Sulla.

Subsequently it was rebuilt or restored by Augustus in 9 BC.
Again by Vespasian in 74 AD and Domitian in 82 AD.

It was ruined by Vandals
in 455 AD.

509 B.C.

Romans won their independence
from Etruscan rule in 509 B.C.

claiming power for "the Senate and people of Rome". Their government was a republic administered by 2
Consuls nominated by the Senate
and elected by an assembly of ^{magistrates} Cicilians. 600 yrs later, the republic ^{had} been overrun by a mighty empire

country at least 50 Million
subjects from Britain & Armenia -

c 509 BC

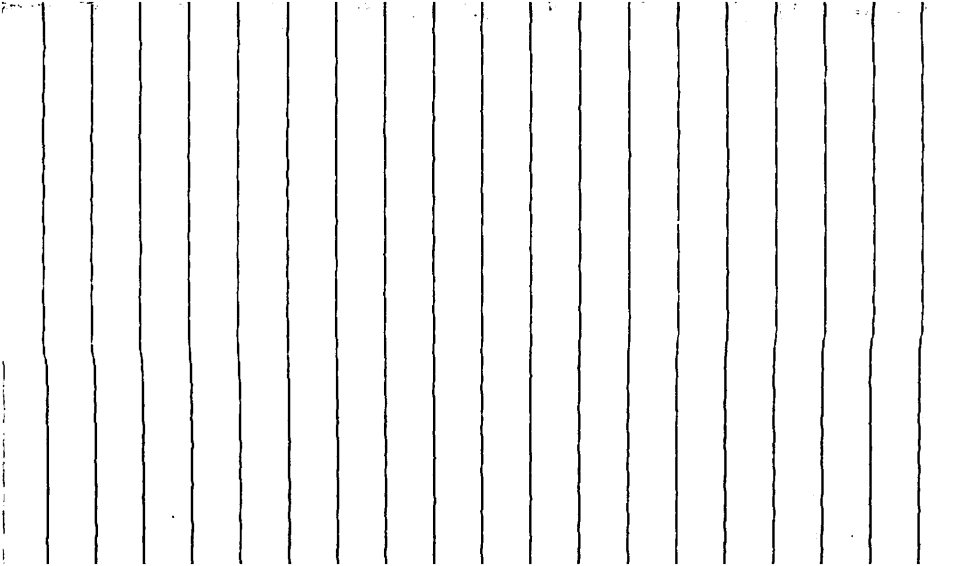

Rome was a city of 80,000 or 100,000 people

509 BC

BRUTUS and COLLATINUS
were consuls. Tarquin Superbus attempted to regain the throne.
PUBLIUS VALERIUS replaced
above as CONSUL

509 BC

BRUTUS AND COLLATINUS
were 1st CONSULS

5098c

In Rome the Consulate was established for the Republic

Also the Quaestorship
was established

509 BC

Reported 1st treaty between Rome and Carthage.

509 BC

Wars for restoration of Etruscan
Supremacy at Rome

509 BC

Completion of Temple of Jupiter Optimus Maximus, called the CAPITOL, in Rome

C509BC

The TARQUINS were expelled from Rome. Patrician commonwealth was established.

Brutus and COLLATINUS were first Consuls.

Rome made Treaty with Carthage.